

F:329

Tamar Hitchins

15 February 1791

To daughter Mary - one shilling

To daughter Vina - one shilling

To daughter Rebecca - one shilling

To son Isaac - one shilling

To son Edward - one shilling

To son William - one shilling

To daughter Sally - one shilling

To daughter Polly - residue of estate

Executor: Thomas Hazzard

Witness: Joseph Dirickson, Jaspera Tingle, Benjamin Long

5 March 1791 Then came

F:330

John Aydelott Senior

15 May 1789

To wife Mary - all the personal that I got by her that was hers before I married her. Also Negro man named Mingo and woman Fillis. Also corner cupboard and cow and calf, 4 ewe and lambs, bed and furniture, riding horse called Button and her saddle and an equal share in my estate with my children

To son George Howard Aydelot - half of my wearing apparel

To daughter Sarah Hazzard (wife of Uriah Hazzard) - all the wearing apparel that she now has which I lent her which was her mother's

To daughter Lavinia White (wife of Phillip White) - all the wearing apparel that she now has which I lent her which was her mother's

To son Mathias Aydelot - half of my wearing apparel to be divided "between my two sons Howard and Mathias"

To grandson Selix Hazzard - silver spoon marked S-H

To wife and all children - residue of estate

To Nancy Aydelot Kinnit - 2 cows and calves, 2 ewe and lambs, one linen Dutch wheel

Executor: wife and Thomas Hazzard

Witness: Samuel Black, James Collins, Leah Hazzard

5 March 1791 Then came

F:331

Richard Knowles Senior

19 January 1790

To son Richard Knowles - all that part of a tract where he now lives between the forks of Cod Creek Branches and as the lines of Knowles Venture extend to the marked trees between him and my grandson Charles Knowles

To daughter-in-law Betty Knowles (widow of my son Charles Knowles) - for her lifetime or widowhood part of a tract called Knowles Venture whereon she now lives to begin at the marked trees between her and Richard Knowles and to extend as far as the line by Joshua McDowel's and the marked trees between her and my son Thomas Knowles. After her death or marriage, this to my grandson Charles Knowles

To son Thomas Knowles - remainder of Knowles Venture where he now lives beginning at the marked trees between him and my grandson Charles and to extend as far as the head of the said land next to John MacDowel's

To son Zechariah Knowles - one shilling

To son James Knowles - 220 acres of land whereon he now lives to extend as far as the lines of Knowles Venture toward the head of Beaver Dam Branch. Also a third part of my saw mill on Cod Creek Branch