Notes for Joshua Hopkins Marvel Marvil:

January 26, 1895 - Omaha World Herald page 4

"Minneapolis Tribune: Joshua Marvel, who has just been inaugurated governor of Delaware, is one of the most successful business men and shrewdest investors in the state, and yet, it is stated, he is totally unable to read or write. He cannot even sign his name, and has secured the services of a leading lawyer as his secretary. This is one of the most remarkable instances on record of a wholly uneducated man attaining great business and political success. It is a proof that native ability can rise above the disabilities of circumstances or environment"

Baltimore Sun Dated March 14, 1895

GOVERNOR MARVEL BETTER

Laurel, Del.m March 13 - The condition of Governor Marvel, who was reported yesterday to be seriously ill of heart disease and dropsy, is greatly improved today. His only brother died yesterday of paralysis. The Governor's favorite son and partner is dangerously ill of pneumonia and his nephew and secretary is convalescing from recent illness. The family affliction, coupled with the death of his friend, Benjamin Fooks, recently, has greatly undermined the frail constitution of the Governor, but he is not thought to be in any immediate danger.

GOVERNOR MARVIL DEAD

The End Came Last Night After a Lingerin Illness of Several Weeks

Laurel, Del., April 8 - Governor Joshua H. Marvil died at 9;15 o'clock to-night after a lingering illness lasting several weeks. Death resulted from a complication of erysipelas, Bright's disease, asthma, heart disease and dropsy. His death had been expected since Friday night and doctors gave up all hopes of saving his life then. This morning he rallied and the physicians thought that if he continued to improve there was a bare chance of saving his life, but at 6 o'clock he became unconscious and remained in this condition until the end came.

Governor Marvil was elected last November and was inaugurated in January. His death will make a big change in the politics of Delaware. The State has no Lieutenant-Governor and the Constitution provides that in the event of the death of the Governor the Speaker of the State Senate shall act as Governor. Therefore William N. Watson, a Democrat, will become Governor, and take the place of Mr. Marvil, who was a Republican. If the Governor had lived he would have appointed men to fill about forty State and county offices, but now these will be filled, by Democrats.

Joshua Hopkins Marvil was born in Little Creek Hundred, Sussex county, September 3, 1825. His family was originally of English descent on the paternal and French on the maternal side. He was the son of Joseph Marvil, a farmer, who was drowned in 1834, leaving a widow and six children, none grown. Joshua was the fourth child. He was obliged to work and found the farm labor so pressing that he was only able to attend school for a small portion of the school year. He remained with his mother until 21 years of age and then hired a man to take his place while he followed the water for a year. For seven years thereafter the future Governor was engaged in shipbuilding, at which calling he demonstrated rare mechanical ability, and in a short time was made foreman of the yard in which he was employed. When but 28 years of age Marvil established a shop for the manufacture of agricultural implements and carried it on until 1865. In 1870 he invented a machine for manufacturing berry baskets and by hand power made 25,000 in that year. The next year steam being introduced he turned out 600,000 baskets, besides crates to contain the same. The business gradually grew until the establishment now makes 2,000,000 baskets every year. besides other boxes for the transportation of fruits.

In 1840 Mr. Marvil married Miss Sarah Ann Sirman, of Sussex county. He has three sons, two of whom were associates with him in business. He was a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, always having taken a great interest in its work. The Governor had been for years afflicted with heart and kidney trouble and had been unable to attend to his duties sine March 1, except at irregular periods. He had been prominent in Delaware Republican politics for years, but never was a candidate for office until he was nominated for Governor.

From the Bibliography Directory of the Governors of the United States 1879 - 1978 page 233 under Delaware

Born in Laurel, Sussex County, Delaware on September 3, 1825, son of Joseph, a farmer; brother of five others; a Methodist-Episcopalian. Married to Sarah Ann Sirman in 1849; father of three sons. Received a limited education. Worked on the family farm until coming of age, then went to sea for one year, and engaged in shipbuilding for seven years. Operated a shop for the manufacture of agricultural implements from 1853 to 1865. In 1870 he invented a machine that made peach and berry baskets. After adding steam power to his plant, his business flourished and became the most important industrial plant in Sussex County. Marvil never held public office before running for governor. On November 6, 1894, Joshua Hopkins Marvil was elected Governor of Delaware, by defeating Ebe W. Tunnell, a Democrat, by a vote of 19880 to 18659. A Republican, Governor Marvil took the oath of office on January 15, 1895. However, his term of service was cut short by his unexpected death on April 8, 1895. Notes for John Marvel:

A news article from The Indianapolis Sunday Star dated November 29, 1914 page 5 column 1

AGED MAN ARRESTED ON OPHAN'S CHARGE

Husband of Matron, 75 Years Old, Accused by Young Girl, Who Leaped From Porch Roof to Escape From Patoka, Home.

Princeton, Ind. Nov. 23 - John Marvel, 75 years old, husband of the matron of the Orphans' Home at Patoka in this county, was arrested and arraigned in Circuit Court here today, charged with attempting a criminal assault upon May Slater, 15 years old, an inmate at the home. Marvel pleaded not guilty and later was released under bond of $1000. The date of the hearing has not been fixed.

Girls Escape Failed.

The arrest of Marvel is the result of charges made by the Slater girl to the matron in the Washington (Ind.) jail, following the arrest of the girl and her companion, Sallie Hendrickson, 15 years old, at Washington where they were taken from a train last Tuesday night. The girls made a sensational escape from the Orphans' Home last Monday by jumping from the veranda roof and eluding the matron. The fact that they had money to pay for their carfare was the first circumstance that caused suspicion that someone was aiding them in their escape. The Slater girl asserts that Marvel attacked her and, becoming frightened, later urged her and her companion to leave the home, giving them money to go away.

Notes for Joshua Dallas Marvil:

According to Wikipedia, -- Joshua Hopkins Marvil (Marvel) (Sept. 3, 1825 - April 8, 1895) was an American merchant and politician from Laurel, in Sussex county, Delaware. He was a member of the Republican Party, who served as Goveernor or Delaware.

Early Life ... As young man, Marvil went to sea for a while and returned to work in shipbuilding. At the age 28, in 1853, he began to manufacture farm equipment. having a certain mechanical genius, he was able to imagine profitable new techologies. With the growth of the peach orchards, he started the Marvil Package Company, a basket and crate manufacturing business in Laurel. For a time, it was said to have been the largest industrial plant in the area, producing two million fruit baskets and crates annually. He was also the publisher of Laurel's first newspaper, the "Gazette", which he started in 1889.

Professional and political career.. Marvil had been an enrollment officer during the Civil War. He became a Republican at the time, and remained one in heavily Democratic western Sussex County. Nevertheless, he was popular, and after refusing his party's nomination for governor in 1882 and 1890, he finally agreed in 1894, in spite of his advanced age and poor physical condition. In the election, Marvil was elected Governor of Delaware, defeating Democrat Ebe W. Tunnell, a merchant from Lewes. Marvil was only the second Republican governor, and the first elected since the Civil War. He feared his health would not last through his term, and after one of the coldest winters on record, his prediction came true. he served less than three months, from January 15, 1895 until his death on April 8, 1895.

Notes for Cora Bell Marvel:

According to a newspaper article from Wilkes-Berre Times dated July 7, 1898. ' Cora Marvel, the young daughter of W J Marvel, the well known marketman of this city; Ralph Brickel, son of B E Brickel, a Dallas merchant, and Bessie Horning, daughter of the Lehigh Valley station agent at Dallas, had a close call from death on the Noxen road yesterday afternoon. B E Brickel is a furniture dealer at Dallas Yesterday he had several articles in that line to deliver at Noxen, about ten miles away, and he sent his young son Ralph to take them over. Bessie Horning and Cora Marvel, little girl companions expressed a wish to accompany Ralph, and they were permitted to go along. Everything went well until they were driving down a hill this side of Noxen, when the front wheels struck a deep rut in the road and the vehicle stopped so suddenly that its three occupants were thrown over the front to the ground and immediately under the horses' feet. The horses, without the guidance of a driver, at once ran away. Soon several people who had witnessed the accident hurried to the scene and one of number summoned Dr. Henry Lines, who found that young Brickel was badly bruised, that Cora Marvel had been severely cut on one of her legs and that Bessie Horning had her right thigh broken. Stretchers were later provided and the injured were carried to the station of the Lehigh Valley at Noxen and brought from there to Dallas on the next train. Mr. Marvel's daughter is more severely injured than either of the others and suffered considerable pain last night. The others rested comfortably....."
