Sudden Death

Martin Hayse, who lives on Green Street, just west of the Canal, died suddenly yesterday at noon. The deceased was complaining in the morning and id not go out to work as usual, but was about the house, and just before the time indicated he sen t his son out to get some water, and when he came in, only a few moments later, the old gentleman was dead. Mr. Hayse was an industrious man, and had worked upon the streets for years. It is thought that heart disease was the cause of his death.

INSANITY INQUIRY

Descendants of Michael Hays

Joseph Hayes has been taken into custody by Sheriff Melching. For the past few days he has been acting in a queer manner and his hallucination is that he has torn down a large wall and that he found nothing but darkness on the other side of it. An inquiry will be held on him to-day.

According to the Fort Wayne Weekly Sentinel (Fort Wayne, Indiana) dated January 18, 1899 page 3

Joseph Hayes is in custody of Sheriff Melching. He has been acting strangely for a few days and when brought to the sheriff's residence yesterday carried a stone in his hand. He imagines that he has torn down an immense wall and finds that all is darkness on the other side. An inquest in lunacy may be held this afternoon.

According to the Fort Wayne Sentinel dated July 14, 1900 paragraph 3 in the article.

WIVES TIRED OF HUSBANDS

Sophie Hayes petitions for a divorce from Joseph Hayes, also alleging cruel and inhuman treatment. She claims that defendant struck, beat, kicked and choke her and called her vile names, falsely accusing her of intimacy with other men. She asks for the custody of the children and for a sum sufficient to maintain them.

According to an article in the Fort Wayne Sentinel (Fort Wayne, Indiana) dated January 17, 1901 page 2

In the divorce case of Sophia Hayes vs. Joseph Hayes the defendant withdrew an appearance and defaulted.

According to the Fort Wayne Sentinel (Fort Wayne, Indiana) dated January 18, 1901 page 1

This afternoon Sophia Hayes was granted a divorce from Joseph Hayes. She was also awarded the custody of four minor children and the defendant was ordered to pay to her $10 per month for their support during their minority.

According to an article appearing in the Fort Wayne News (Fort Wayne, Indiana) dated March 12, 1901 page 5

WANDERED ABOUT ALL NIGHT

Last evening Officer Lavanway, who was on the Broadway beat, noticed a strange man walking up and down the street. This was before midnight. About 3 o'clock in the morning he noticed the stranger again on the promenade. He had evidently "carried the banner" all night, and as he could not give a good account of himself he was sent to the station house. There he gave his name as Joseph H. Hayes. He stated that he had been working at the poor farm and did not receive any pay. A telephone message to the poor farm conveys the information that he was an inmate of the institution and left there last night of his own accord, not to return. He was slightly unbalanced mentally, but, has never done any harm. The fact, that he walked the streets all last night is an indication that he is not capable of taking care of himself. Mayor Schever released him from custody last night.

According to an article appearing in the Fort Wayne Sentinel (Fort Wayne, Indiana) dated March 12, 1901 on page 2 third paragraph down

THURST FOR GORE AND GLORY

Joseph H. Hayes answered 'not guilty' in a loud tone of voice as he was called up on a charge of vagrancy. The arresting officer said he had found him promenading up and down Broadway from early in the evening until 3 o'clock last night, when the arrest was made. Hayes said he was working at the poor farm and had been in town until late and he hated to go out to the county house and disturb the watchman at that time of night. He talked very disconnectedly and the officers said that it was a known fact that he is off his mental base. The mayor told him to go and return to the infirmary where he belonged. he said he would.
